

Michael's Foundations Markdown Quick Reference

> A practical Markdown guide for documenting software projects.

Headings

```md

Main Title (use only once)

Major Section

Subsection

Topic

```

Paragraphs

Leave a blank line between paragraphs.

```md

This is the first paragraph.

This is the second paragraph.

```

Emphasis

```md

**Bold****

**Italic**

***Bold Italic******

``inline code``

---

# Lists

### Bullet List

```
```\nmd\n- Item One\n- Item Two\n- Item Three\n```\n
```

Numbered List

```
```\nmd\n1. First\n2. Second\n3. Third\n```\n
```

### Task List

```
```\nmd\n- [ ] Not Started\n- [x] Complete\n```\n
```

Block Quotes

```
```\nmd\n> Important note\n```\n
```

---

# Horizontal Rule

```
 ``md

 ``
```

---

# Links

```
 ``md
GitHub
 ``
```

---

# Images

```
 ``md
!Screenshot
 ``
```

---

# Code Blocks

```
    ````md
    ``html
<h1>Hello</h1>
    ````
```

```
 ``css

.button {
color: blue;
}
 ``
```

```
 ``javascript
console.log("Hello");
    ````
```

Tables

```
    ``md
```

Section	Status
-----	-----
Hero	Complete
Journey	In Progress

Documentation Template

```md

Document Title

> One-sentence purpose.

---

Overview

Brief explanation.

---

Main Sections

Topic

Purpose

...

Behavior

...

Design Intent

...

---

## Notes

...      \ \ \

---

# Best Practices

- One `#` heading per file.
- Use blank lines generously.
- Prefer bullet lists over long paragraphs.
- Explain why, not just what.
- Keep documents easy to skim.
- Protect the consistency of your documentation.